

Northwestern Mutual Continues To Support The Fight Against Childhood Cancer by Raising More Than $900,000

Offices nationwide and employees raise funds together for national philanthropic cause

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 2, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Northwestern Mutual sees a future without childhood cancer, where families and children find endless hope and happiness. Through thousands of its corporate employees and financial advisors, Northwestern Mutual is contributing more than $900,000 to its nonprofit partner Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation. These additional funds add to the $3 million that the Northwestern Mutual Foundation contributed to childhood cancer organizations this year.

At its 2018 Annual Meeting in Milwaukee, Wis. last month, Northwestern Mutual recognized the top fundraising offices nationwide:

2018 Childhood Cancer Impact Award Winners Recognized

Across the country, Northwestern Mutual offices work tirelessly to contribute funds for childhood cancer research and support families battling the disease as well as survivors struggling with late treatment effects. This year, four offices across the country were recognized as recipients of the company's fifth annual Childhood Cancer Impact Award for their contributions. Each office was awarded $50,000 in grant funding to benefit childhood cancer organizations.

Most Exceptional: Northwestern Mutual – Troy, Michigan

Northwestern Mutual – Troy, Mich. was recognized as the Company's 2018 most exceptional childhood cancer award winner, receiving an additional $50,000 – for a total grant amount of $100,000. Spending more than 2,100 hours volunteering, Managing Partner Brad Seitzinger and his team rallied to raise $79,000. The money was raised from a variety of special office events, ranging from lemonade stands, concert series, a Superhero Run, and the creation of Coaches vs. Cancer basketball games at various area universities.

Other regional offices recognized this year include:

Northwestern Mutual – San Francisco, California

Participating in the Childhood Cancer Program since 2012, Managing Partner Michael Byrne and his office have been personally touched by pediatric cancer, proving to be the catalyst on the road to raise funds. Through unique office programming, such as office an running team named "When Life Gives You Lemons," their annual holiday party with activities supporting the fight against childhood cancer, and dress down denim Friday's for employees, the San Francisco team raised more than $15,000 for Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation.

Northwestern Mutual – West Hartford, Connecticut

The West Hartford office always felt a personal dedication toward fighting pediatric cancer, following their motto to "enrich lives, impact communities and build legacies." Heavily motivated to make a difference this year and backed by a team of more than 180 people, the West Hartford office volunteered more than 1,900 hours and raised over $100,000. Participating in local events such as the three-and-a-half-mile road and trail race titled the Union Street Tavern Trot, hosting lemonade stands, and partnering with local universities, has only strengthened the office's commitment to finding a cure.

Northwestern Mutual – Jacksonville, Florida

This year, the Jacksonville office volunteered 1,100 hours of their time and raised more than $94,000 for Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation. Through office-sponsored events, from coordination of tours at University of Florida labs and clinics to showcase the impact of research dollars, to their signature Lemon Ball fundraiser, the office has shown their dedication to the cause.

Launched in 2012, Northwestern Mutual's Childhood Cancer Program was developed to find cures, while providing family and patient support and aid to those who struggle with the long-term effects of treatment. The program has contributed more than $17 million to the cause with the help of its employees and financial advisors nationwide, funding more than 200,000 hours of research and leveraging nonprofit partners - including camps and retreats - to help more kids and families live to the fullest.
