

Northwestern Mutual To Pay Policyowners $5.6 Billion In Dividends

2019 payout leads industry; expected to be the highest in company history

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Northwestern Mutual announced today that its policyowners will receive an estimated $5.6 billion in dividends through the company's 2019 dividend payout. This payout is expected to lead the industry and be the highest payout in the company's history.

The company's dividend payout record is unparalleled in both duration and size. Northwestern Mutual has paid a dividend every year since 1872 – even in challenging economic conditions. Northwestern Mutual leads the industry in total dividends paid to policyowners for both life and disability income insurance.

"This record dividend clearly demonstrates our consistent performance, our overriding commitment to do what's best for our policyowners, and our industry-leading ability to deliver long-term value," said John E. Schlifske, chairman, president and CEO of Northwestern Mutual. "Staying focused on business fundamentals – sound underwriting, disciplined expense management and investment performance – is core to our financial strength in all economic seasons."

Policyowners who own whole life insurance, disability insurance and some annuity products are eligible for dividends which can be used to advance financial goals, including reducing the cost of premiums; taking dividends in cash; or, for life insurance, increasing the cash value and in many cases death benefit.

Northwestern Mutual seeks to pay the highest level of dividends possible, consistent with maintaining our unquestionable financial strength. It currently maintains the highest financial strength ratings awarded to any U.S. life insurer by all four of the major ratings agencies.
