

Northwestern Mutual Reports Strong 2018 Financial Results

Robust Surplus Growth and Investment Performance
Reinforce Industry-Leading Financial Strength and Value

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 20, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Northwestern Mutual's 2018 business results reflect a strong and vibrant company known for delivering value to clients year after year. Exceptional surplus growth, an increase in operating gain and an all-time-high General Account investment portfolio demonstrated industry-leading financial strength, enabling the company to continue investing in innovation to deliver a personalized financial security experience for clients.

"We exist to help clients achieve financial security, and our company's financial strength ensures we are well positioned to deliver on our promises for generations to come," said John E. Schlifske, chairman, president and chief executive officer. "I'm proud of these results, which show that our wise investment approach and diligent expense management enable us to consistently deliver value to everyone who counts on us. We continue to be preeminently the policyowners' company."

The company continued its track record of maintaining the highest financial strength ratings awarded to any U.S. life insurer by all four of the major rating agencies.¹

Highlights of company results as of year-end 2018 included:

Exceptional surplus growth: In 2018, Northwestern Mutual grew its total surplus (including Asset Valuation Reserve or AVR) by $1.5 billion to $26.7 billion – the highest in company history. Surplus is a critical contributor to the company's financial strength ratings. Surplus reinforces the company's ability to fulfill its promises to policyowners.

Continued focus on product value: Growth in net investment income in particular contributed to a 2018 operating gain before dividends and taxes (OGBDT) of $6.2 billion. OGBDT is the primary source for policyowner dividends.

Record dividend: The company previously announced an expected total dividend payout of $5.6 billion in 2019, the highest payout in company history.[2] Northwestern Mutual leads the industry in both life and disability insurance dividends paid to policyowners.

Growth of insurance and investment client assets: Northwestern Mutual provides a wide range of financial services to more than 4.5 million people. Life insurance in force continued its climb with a 4 percent increase to $1.8 trillion. Investment client assets also grew and ended the year at $128 billion in assets under management.

Growth in General Account investment portfolio: The portfolio stood at an all-time high of $235 billion at the end of the year, an increase of $9.7 billion since year-end 2017.

Policyowner benefits: Northwestern Mutual paid $4.8 billion in insurance claims to policyowners and their beneficiaries.

In addition to its financial results, Northwestern Mutual made notable progress in its continued transformation focused on delivering a financial security experience for clients that is unrivaled in the industry. Among the milestones in the past year:

Introduced our new Planning Experience, which enables clients to see their entire financial picture – both inside and outside Northwestern Mutual – within their financial plan anytime, anywhere. The tool was used to create more than 30,000 financial plans in 2018 and will offer more capabilities in the year to come, including the ability to help clients get a clear picture of permanent life insurance and the living benefits it offers.

Dramatically reduced underwriting time with an accelerated process for life insurance to approve some applications in one day rather than 2-3 weeks.

Committed to investments in innovation, including three new venture funds to invest in the brightest ideas and businesses, as well as opening the new Northwestern Mutual Data Science Institute with the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and Marquette University to advance data science and technology learning to strengthen future talent in Milwaukee.

"Technology is helping our advisors ensure financial planning is an always-on, easily accessible and more efficient experience so more people can enjoy today while preparing for tomorrow," said Schlifske. "Our financial results are strong, but what's more important are the values that stand behind them and the trusted relationships and long-term commitment between our advisors, our clients and us."
