

Northwestern Mutual's 2019 Financial Results Break Company Records

Company Sees Record Revenue of $29.9B, Record Total Investments of $248.3B; Maintains Highest Ever Surplus and Announces Industry-Leading Dividend of $6B

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 25, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Northwestern Mutual set new records with the release of its 2019 financial results announced today. The company's unsurpassed financial strength and product value are evident across all measures, from revenue growth and investment performance to surplus and dividend payouts. The results underscore the company's continued ability to fulfill its mission of helping clients achieve financial security for decades to come.

"Through our unwavering commitment to our clients, we have once again achieved exceptional financial results," said John Schlifske, chairman, president, and chief executive officer. "From this position of strength, our trusted advisors are delivering personalized financial planning and industry-leading products to help our clients turn dreaming into living and make the most of every day."¹

Northwestern Mutual has consistently maintained the highest financial strength ratings awarded to U.S. life insurers by all four of the major ratings agencies.²

In addition to strong overall business growth and performance, the company delivered on key measures that benefit policyowners and ensure long-term success, including:

Exceptional surplus growth: In 2019, surplus grew $3.7 billion to $30.4 billion, a company record.³ A strong surplus position gives the company flexibility to respond to unexpected future events, like market downturns, while upholding the promise to pay claims to policyowners. Northwestern Mutual paid $4.8 billion in insurance claims to policyowners and their beneficiaries in 2019.

Industry-leading dividend⁴: As previously announced, policyowners are expected to receive the largest dividend payout in company history — totaling $6 billion in 2020. That is the highest in the industry, and more than the company's three closest competitors combined.

Superior product fundamentals: Driving the company's unsurpassed dividend payout and financial strength were its superior underwriting and expense management, along with strong investment portfolio performance. These were supported by an industry-leading persistency, which improved to 96.4%, reflecting clients' high satisfaction with their advisors, plans and products.

Strong general account investment results: The portfolio ended 2019 at a new high of $248.3 billion. Solid fixed-income results — despite continued low interest rates — combined with robust real estate and equity market performance, produced strong total portfolio returns. Over the long term, nearly all the portfolio's asset classes have outperformed their benchmarks.

Also in 2019, demand for the company's integrated financial solutions — combining insurance to protect against risk and investments to grow wealth — continued to rise. Highlights include:

Strong Life Insurance Sales: The company's advisors and financial professionals drove annual sales of life insurance, which increased 10% over 2018, to the highest level in its history. During the past year, Northwestern Mutual reimagined its life insurance product line with the launch of the new Life Plus Series, offering clients a simplified yet highly customizable approach.

Leading Investment Products & Services Business: Client investment assets grew 26% last year to a record $161 billion. Northwestern Mutual is one of the top five independent broker dealers — and among the fastest growing — in the United States.⁵

Northwestern Mutual's business performance showcased the success of the company's advisor-led, holistic planning approach.

"We're committed to helping our clients through the guidance of a trusted financial advisor who truly understands a client's unique goals, and through personalized financial planning that integrates both insurance and investments," noted Schlifske. "Our success demonstrates the strength of this approach for our clients, and we will build on this strong momentum in 2020 and beyond."
