

S&P Global Ratings Affirms Northwestern Mutual's Highest Possible Financial Strength Rating

Ratings Agency Highlights Highly Productive Distribution System, Commitment to Policyowners, High-Quality Products and Brand, Expense Efficiency, Management Team and Excellent Risk Profile

MILWAUKEE, June 29, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- S&P Global Ratings ("S&P") has affirmed Northwestern Mutual's AA+ financial strength rating – the agency's highest rating awarded to any U.S. life insurer – in a recently released report. The report explains that, though Northwestern Mutual credit profile is AAA, S&P's rating is limited by their AA+ credit quality rating of the United States.

"Financial strength is always a top priority for us – and in this current environment, with significant market volatility, it's even more critical," said John Schlifske, chairman, president, and chief executive officer. "Our advisors and their clients can depend on us through the inevitable economic ups and downs, with confidence that we'll continue building our business with a long-term focus."

Risk was a crucial factor in S&P's assessment, "We regard Northwestern's financial risk profile as excellent, reflecting its excellent capital and earnings, moderately low risk exposure, and neutral funding structure." S&P also described Northwestern Mutual's business risk profile as excellent, citing the company's leading market position, strong brand name, highly effective distribution force and strong operating performance. Tight management of investment exposures was credited by the agency as well.

"Following AM Best and Fitch Ratings, S&P's is the third major agency affirmation of our highest possible financial strength rating and stable outlook that we've received since the start of the pandemic," said Todd Jones, vice president and controller. "Together, the above affirmations validate our ability to not only withstand, but thrive before, during and after this period of uncertainty and volatility. Critically, remaining strong now will support our continuing promise to deliver superior product value to current and future policyowners."

S&P recognized Northwestern Mutual's commitment to policyowners and mutual structure as fundamental to the company's strategy, adding, "These principles underlie the company's emphasis on efficiency, personalized service, and competitive dividends to policyowners."

Report also highlighted key competitive advantages

Field representatives and brand: "The company will continue to benefit from a highly productive and loyal distribution system" and "powerful brand."

Management team: "Management is well seasoned with a strategy that emphasizes long-term stability and strength, and a commitment to mutuality and policyholders."

Low expenses: S&P noted the company's cost control, "Northwestern has a significant expense advantage compared to peers."

Industry-leading financial strength ratings

With these latest affirmations, Northwestern Mutual continues to have the highest financial strength ratings awarded to any U.S. life insurer by all four of the major rating agencies, with continued stable outlooks: AM Best Company, A++ (highest), April 2020; Fitch Ratings, AAA (highest), May 2020; Moody's Investors Service, Aaa (highest), September 2019; and S&P Global Ratings, AA+ (second highest), June 2020.
