Northwestern Mutual's Internship Program Ranked Top 15 in U.S.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 12, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- For the 25th consecutive year, Northwestern Mutual's College Financial Representative internship program has been ranked by Vault as one of the 100 best in the country. The program is in the top 15 overall, and top three among financial services firms. Additionally, it is one of the top 10 internships for career development.

"While the pandemic has significantly impacted many students' ability to secure internships and enhance their business skills, we've remained committed to providing opportunities for them to grow professionally and personally," said Sandy Botcher, vice president, field talent, Northwestern Mutual. "We continue to be proud of this recognition and look forward to nurturing current and future interns as we help people achieve their financial goals."

Interns are typically juniors or seniors studying business, economics, social sciences, education or liberal arts. The impact of Northwestern Mutual's program is evident, as many of these individuals continue to full-time positions after graduation.

Vault.com provides in-depth intelligence on what it's like to work in an industry, company or profession. Its editors surveyed more than 11,000 current and former interns and educators, and evaluated 122 internship programs to select the programs they feel provide the best all-around experience. When ranking each program, several factors are considered including quality of life, compensation and benefits, career development, full-time employment prospects and diversity.
