

Northwestern Mutual honored for its commitment to Milwaukee's economic growth, well-being

MILWAUKEE, April 11, 2014 – A city thrives when its people are given the tools to succeed, which is why each year, Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC) Milwaukee honors corporate and public sector leaders who are working through grants, programs and volunteer activities to improve the city.

Northwestern Mutual was presented with the Vision Award by LISC Board Chair Lisa Glover and Milwaukee Mayor Tom Barrett at the Milwaukee Awards for Neighborhood Development Innovation (MANDI) announced April 9 at The Pfister Hotel. The Vision Award recipient is selected by LISC Milwaukee's Advisory Board and honors a company's commitment to the city's economic growth and well-being.

"Northwestern Mutual is honored to be recognized by LISC as one of the many success stories in our community," said John Kordsmeier, president, Northwestern Mutual Foundation. "We are working with many of the organizations honored today to make a stronger, collective impact on the community at large."

In 2013, Northwestern Mutual committed $725,000 in grants to nonprofits in three specific Milwaukee neighborhoods – Amani, Metcalfe Park and Muskego Way. This initiative creates welcoming, safe and healthy neighborhoods through strong nonprofit partners, improving the quality of life for more than 70,000 people.

To reaffirm its commitment to the city, the company recently broke ground on a signature development in downtown Milwaukee, creating 1,000 construction-related jobs through 2017, bringing 1,900 new jobs to the city, retaining 1,100 jobs in the area and generating millions of dollars in new tax base.
