Barsch to Lead Northwestern Mutual's Planning and Sales Department; Stoeffel to Lead Investment Services

Changes support growth in financial planning process offered to clients through financial representatives

MILWAUKEE, May 1, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Northwestern Mutual's Board of Trustees has named Rebekah Barsch executive officer, vice president – planning and sales, and David G. Stoeffel, CLU, ChFC executive officer, vice president – investment services effective May 1. Stoeffel also becomes president of Northwestern Mutual Investment Services, LLC – a wholly owned subsidiary that provides brokerage and advisory services to individuals and businesses.

"We know that no plan produces financial security unless it involves great products," said John E. Schlifske, Northwestern Mutual chairman and CEO. "Rebekah and Dave are smart leaders who will bring innovation to our integrated suite of risk and investment products and the distinctive financial planning process that has become so important to our clients."

Barsch joined Northwestern Mutual in 1994, and earned an MBA from Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management in 2005. She serves on the advisory board of the American College Retirement Income Center, and is a past board member of Advocates of Ozaukee. She and her husband Brian live in Cedarburg, WI with their two teenage children.

Stoeffel joined Northwestern Mutual in 2007, and is a graduate of Washington and Lee University and the Securities Industry Institute at The Wharton School. He currently serves on the boards of the Wisconsin Historical Foundation and the Milwaukee Public Library Foundation. He and his wife Maggie live in Whitefish Bay, WI and have two adult children.
