MILWAUKEE, January 1, 2016 – Northwestern Mutual’s “Dancing into Adventure” float today was awarded the Past Presidents Award at the 127th Rose Parade® presented by Honda in Pasadena, CA. The award recognizes the most creative design and use of both floral and non-floral materials.

“Dancing into Adventure,” built by Fiesta Parade Floats, draws attention to the fight against childhood cancer by showcasing the greatest adventure and dream of Peyton Richardson, a 13-year-old aspiring ballerina from Sugar Land, Texas, who is in treatment for leukemia.

Peyton’s dream is to travel the world to see the performances from the world’s most distinguished ballet companies and receive a dance lesson with their principal dancers. Northwestern Mutual brought her dream to life through an extraordinary display of floral art and grandeur inspired by Tchaikovsky’s ballet, Swan Lake.

“We’re proud to receive this recognition, but we’re even more honored to help make Peyton’s dream a reality. She is a true inspiration, and sharing stories like hers can have a significant impact in bringing attention to the fight against childhood cancer,” said Conrad York, vice president of marketing for Northwestern Mutual.

Childhood Cancer is Northwestern Mutual’s signature philanthropic cause. Since 2012, the company has funded nearly 65,000 hours of research to help find treatments and cures for childhood cancer. The Northwestern Mutual Foundation, in partnership with the company’s financial representatives and employees nationwide, has collectively contributed $8 million for the cause.
